

The 2 million plus people who signed up for "no calls" know what they want. I am a shut-in and the phone jangleing all day with officers of siding and windows was more than I could stand. It is so much quieter now and I would like the law to stand as is.